Welcome to 'In Touch'

The magazine of Cheltenham United Reformed Church, a joint pastorate of the three United Reformed Churches in Cheltenham. The three churches work very closely together, sharing this magazine, the website and all activities.

St Andrew's United Reformed Church is in the Montpellier district of Cheltenham town centre. A former Presbyterian church founded in 1885, it became United Reformed on unification in 1972. St Andrew's offers impressive facilities, meeting the needs of 21st century Cheltenham.

Prestbury United Reformed Church is in the heart of Prestbury village on the northern edge of Cheltenham. A former Congregational chapel built in 1866, becoming United Reformed on unification in 1972.

The Church in Warden Hill is a Local Ecumenical Partnership (LEP) between the Anglican (St Christopher's) and URC communities of Up Hatherley and Warden Hill in the south of Cheltenham. Ministry is shared between the URC and Rev Gary Grady of the Anglican South Cheltenham Team Ministry.

Both the Anglican and URC buildings are regularly used for worship.

For other information about the Church in Warden Hill please see 'The Lantern' or visit www.tciwh.org.uk

This month's Pastoral letter comes from David Black, Elder at St Andrew's

Dear Friends

Pastoral input by me on a personal level is rare as helping congregations deal with property and finance is more my field. This helps reduce the distractions that can affect those dealing with more personal matters. It is like the parts of the body and we virtually all belong in the part where we are of most use to God whether we realise it or not.

Most of you will know that I had several business trips to the Caribbean during the winter dealing with insurance claims arising from Hurricane Irma last September. During those trips I was based in St Maarten but also dealt with claims in Anguilla which was accessed by ferry so I had several trips in a speedboat for 6 or so passengers. The 10 mile trips included a section where we were open to the Atlantic and when the waves were higher than the boat it was reminiscent of the disciples in a storm on the Sea of Galilee.

We were aware of the effects of the flooding in 2007 because we were on bowsers and bottled water for a time and I have seen the damage that flooding can cause in commercial and domestic properties. The damage caused by a Hurricane of the strength of Irma was on another level because it affected everything including yachts, docks, roofs, structural steel beams and vehicles. It even blew away accounting records when the office window got destroyed. The places that are flood prone can prepare like a modern day Noah to enable them to recover faster. However the hurricane path and strength is less predictable so one can go a generation between major damage. The "hurricanes" in our lives tend to arise from problems relating to employment, family and friends. When we pray to God for the people we know whom we perceive to need help may we also pray for those we do not know whose lives have been turned upside down by natural disasters or civil wars.

As our involvement in the Christian Aid week door to door collections has reduced some members have come up with an alternative way we can contribute by having a Sunday afternoon concert with tea afterwards. Why not see if you can come and bring some friends, donations for Christian Aid. Some of the countries they help are prone to natural disasters while others are war zones with millions of displaced people.

David

Easter at Prestbury URC

This Palm Sunday we were pleased to receive the Procession from St Mary's at the Village Cross; the weather was good enough to allow for the short service to be outside. There were a couple of short readings, a hymn and a prayer and Fr. Nick blessed all our palms before our friends set off back for their own service.

On Good Friday some of us joined in the Celebrate! Family Worship at St Mary's – a mixture of reflective deeds, readings, prayers and modern songs. We were reminded that Jesus was put to death not on the 'green hill far away' but most likely on a rubbish tip and far from being mourned by a large crowd, the Disciples had vanished and the women who were left, stood there at great personal risk as they may have been deemed guilty by association and crucified themselves.

On Easter Sunday the Cross was again garlanded by a wreath of white and yellow flowers kindly made by Dee Graham of St Mary's. The Cross will now stand for a little while after Easter to remind all who see it of the true meaning of Easter.

Good Friday in Charlton Kings

Some of us from St Andrew's were involved in the Passion Drama "Veronica's Veil", presented by Charlton Kings Community Players during the CK Churches "Walk of Witness".

Written, produced and directed by Tony Jeans, Costumes by Sandra Jeans

Bob Alger – Barabbas, Kate Alger - a member of the chorus of Women of Jerusalem

The legend of Veronica's Veil comes from the early middle ages. As Jesus is led to Calvary, a woman in the crowd wipes his face with her stole or veil and an image of his face is left miraculously upon it.

The name Veronica suggests a pun– Vera Icon –i.e. True Image.

Bill served the Warden Hill URC well over the years by regularly leading our Sunday morning worship. St. Andrew's Charity for May

MARIE CURIE

When the Hampstead Marie Curie Hospital was transferred to the NHS in 1948 some members of the committee set up the Marie Curie Memorial Fund, in order to continue support for cancer sufferers. In 1952 it became a recognised charity and it continues today as 'Marie Curie', providing support to sufferers from forms of terminal illness. Marie Curie currently runs 9 hospices and employs over 4,000 staff, over 2,000 of whom are specially trained nurses, and a further number are trained Health Care Assistants. Local volunteers also help, particularly in support of family members. All work in collaboration with GPs, District Nurses, hospitals and consultants. As far as possible Nurses and Health Care Assistants provide palliative care for the terminally ill in their own homes, by regular visits, or if necessary by overnight stays.

The hospices serve a dual purpose; they allow patients to make day visits, to use the facilities or consult specialists, and they have medical and care facilities for longer stays as necessary. The stated aim of all the care provided by Marie Curie is to allow the terminally ill to spend their last days with dignity and peacefully among family and friends.

In 1986 the charity adopted the daffodil emblem to help with fund raising, and every March the charity organises the Great Daffodil Appeal. Apart from its caring activities Marie Curie also provides some funding for research into better ways of caring for the terminally ill.

May 17th is International Recycling Day. This is the first global recycling day and nine cities including London are set to participate in events. International Recycling Day is organized by the Brussels-based Bureau of International Recycling (BIR).

On my commute into work, I noticed that Cheltenham Railway Station now has pink holders on the platform to collect chewing gum for recycling. These bins (Gumdrops) are actually made from recycled gum. The company which makes them also makes gum into coffee cups.

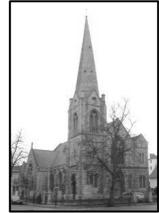

A small red butterfly was noted as an early sign of spring on our Eco Church Noticeboard. Thank you for recording this.

The Regeneration & Repair Café celebrates its second birthday on 5 May. Electrical items remain popular items for repair as do textiles. At the April Café 33 items were brought in for repair helping us to reduce waste.

Data Protection

As you will be aware, the law on Data Protection will be changing on 25th May 2018. The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) will give everyone more control and better protection over how their data is used. All organisations, including Churches are subject to these new regulations.

Personal data relates to a living individual and includes obvious information such as name, address, email address and telephone number.

It can also include sensitive information such as race, health and sexuality. No such data is held by your church.

Consent is required from you before any data is disclosed to a third party, unless there is legal obligation to do so.

The Cheltenham United Reformed Church (St Andrew's) Data Privacy Statement, which is based on the template provided by the URC nationally, is published on pages 12-15 of this edition of 'In Touch'. It will also be on display on the church notice board.

The Data Privacy Statement for Cheltenham United Reformed Church (Prestbury) will be similar. The Church in Warden Hill is subject to Anglican regulations.

What Happens Next

- The Eldership needs to know what data is being held by each active Group.
How is it held? Where is it held? What is it used for?
How old is it? Who has access to it?
- Once we have the full picture of what personal data is held by the churches we will seek your positive consent to continue to hold that data.
- If you have papers relating to committees you no longer serve on, determine whether they are archive (to be kept) or surplus data (to destroy). – there will be a container in the vestry at St Andrew's for papers to be shredded securely.

First Saturday of every Month

St Andrew's 10.00am—2.00pm

Tuesday Forum at St Andrew's A Bard on the Silver Screen.

Job descriptions can be very misleading these days. For example, a 'household goods procurement executive' would turn out to be a supermarket shopper, an 'equestrian investment agent' would turn out to be a race-goer. Some though are pretty straightforward, like chief constable, head chef, airline pilot, Queen.

Then there are some that sound important, have a massive prestige, but don't pay much, and cause folk to wonder who they are and what they did to get the job...like poet laureate for instance. OK, go on, name more than one. See what I mean? The current pay is about £6,000 a year and the post-holder doesn't legally have to do anything at all. The post is in the gift of the Prime Minister. So, who would you like to put forward? Charles Causley? Pam Ayres? Tim Rice? That chap who wrote those limericks on the London Underground? A modern hymn writer? Hang on, Charles Causley? – could he have been poet laureate?

Russell Buley thinks so, and at the Forum on Tuesday 8th May will tell us about "Charles Causley, the greatest poet laureate we never had."

Isn't it a touch odd that the only "laureate" we have is a poet? Shouldn't we have a painter laureate and a dramatist laureate? A footballer laureate? Pop-singer? There are of course other ways of rewarding talent; knighthoods, damehoods, and so on, especially in the theatre and films, like Dame Judy, Sir Laurence, Sir Kenneth, Sirnatra etc. Which leads me to Bill Cowie's "Classic Short Film" on Tuesday 22nd May. It's a "wait and see" film, but it might well feature one or two. Only way to find out is to come along and watch. Charles Boyer might never have spoken the "classic" quote "come with me to the casbah" so I can't use that useful cliché, and we haven't got a casbah, but we do have a tea bar, which will be upgraded to a bring and share tea.

And finally, a warm thank you to the irrepressible Owen Barraclough who stood in as speaker at very short notice indeed at our late March meeting.

Don't forget the Outing to Coughton Court on Tuesday 12th June.

And that will be that until September, when there might be some surprises in store.

Footsloggers

The walking Group for all ages, abilities and dogs that has been going strong since 2008. The name 'Footsloggers' was invented by Bob Alger although the walks are not really 'slogs' they are steady strolls in the beautiful countryside surrounding Cheltenham. Walks are organised by different people each month and are approximately five miles in length, with as few stiles as possible, ending at some hostelry with lunch and good company.

The dates of the walks for 2018 are:

24 th May	18 th June
20 th July	13 th August
21 st September	15 th October
16 th November	10 th December

All are welcome to join us both young and not so young. Just get in touch with Tim Odell at t_odell@blueyonder.co.uk, or Jenny Evans at jenny21evans@hotmail.co.uk

I wandered (not as) lonely as a cloud! Footsloggers outing to Dymock

On Friday the 23rd March 13 members of the Footsloggers met at Dymock for a walk amongst the daffodils of the surrounding countryside. Starting at St Mary's church and walking part of the Poet's Way walk we headed across damp fields to Vell Mill nature reserve, passing the remains of snow in the hedges. The nature reserve is part of Gloucestershire's Wildlife Trust and the groups of daffodils looked wonderful in their natural setting. From there we crossed farmers' slowly-drying fields and headed for a M50 bridge passing naturalised daffodils on the banks of paths and bridges. We saw the Ketford Bank nature reserve whilst we ate our bananas! Ketford reserve is a steep sandy bank with many daffodils and has been part of the Trust only since 2010. From there we walked past the 17th century Callow Farm to the Callow Farm conservation area, again covered in pockets of daffodils. A lovely sight but perhaps marred by the sound of its neighbour, the M50! From there it was a gentle walk back to our starting point and lunch at the Beauchamp Arms.

Wednesday Social Group at Warden Hill URCC

28th March. This week a good crowd braved the rain.

First - a try out on the newly donated Bingo machine! What high tech. for calling the numbers over the tinkle of the tea cups and the crunch of the biscuits.

Second -one of the best talks we have enjoyed since our opening. humour, history but above all inspiration to be one of the people who make a contribution as we, as a Group, hope to do. If you get a chance to hear Chris Evans speak please do yourself a favour and go. Thank you so much, Chris.

Third - a chance to do our favourite thing! No! Not sing along with Julie Andrews but chat to our friends.

11th April.

The Wednesday Social Group audience has been so fortunate in the quality of the speakers we have enjoyed in our first year. Every one of them has been an expert on their subject with the ability to convey the joy their topic gives to them.

This week was a case in point. Tony Jeans gave us George Gershwin through the medium of sound, pictures and dance in a talk illustrated by his research and scholarship. Yet another treat!

Come and join the Group, especially if you live near Warden Hill, for fun and friendship in 2018 and beyond. Don't be shy, a warm welcome awaits you.

We meet on the 2nd and 4th Wednesday afternoons in the month at 2.00pm, at the URC Centre.

A Prayer for Pentecost

Enter our hearts, O Holy Spirit,
Come in blessed mercy and set us free.
Throw open, O Lord, the locked doors of our minds;
Cleanse the chambers of our thoughts for thy dwelling:
Light there the fires of thine own holy brightness in new
Understandings of the truth,
O Holy Spirit, very God, whose presence is liberty,
Grant us the perfect freedom
To be thy servants
Today, tomorrow, evermore.
